

Bro. Bruce Parker - The Challenge of Christian Living

Too many of the people I love most in this world are falling by the wayside... victims of their own folly or overcome by the crushing blows of life or confused by the powerful messages of the world or frustrated by the folly of our human leadership or... you know, the stuff of this life.

We're going to discuss the spiritual tools available, the meaningful work to be done, the power of a relationship with Christ, the habits and thinking and choices that can strengthen them and shield them. And we're going to discuss recovering from failure... the wonder of returning to God, again and again.
